Second Conference on Byzantine and Medieval Studies 2018

Welcome Pack

Getting to Cyprus

Larnaca International Airport (IATA: LCA) is the closest airport to Nicosia and lies about 60km (37.2m) away on the southern coast (<http://www.hermesairports.com/en/larnakahome>). There are up to 30 daily bus shuttle services that run between the airport and Nicosia, non-stop and cost approximately €8. Taxis are also readily available, as well as private car hire companies.

Pafos International Airport (PFO) is Cyprus' secondary airport and lies approximately 98.6km (61.2m) southeast of Nicosia. Nicosia is easily reached from Pafos via bus shuttle (cost approximately €15), private car hire or taxi.

Transportation within Cyprus

Nicosia City Centre is generally easy to explore on foot and, given that the conference venue and most of the hotels are within the walled city, you may not need any other means of transportation during the conference. However, if you like to explore Cyprus more, here is some information on the available transportation options.

Bus

OSEL is the official bus organisation of Nicosia district. On their website you can find information on routes and tickets (<http://www.osel.com.cy/>).

Cyprus by Bus is a useful site for planning your bus journey (<http://www.cyprusbybus.com/>)

Intercity Buses will easily get you from one city centre to the other and a day ticket costs €7. For timetables and destinations visit: <http://www.intercity-buses.com/>.
